

Further in the Folded & Binding dialect

— BRIEF

Two more abstract sculptural marks in the Folded lineage, two more custom ligatures in the Binding lineage. One carries a quiet reference to Mughal jali work — the architectural screen craft of North India — rooting XANVOR in a heritage that is yours alone.

The Jali

X A N V O R

OF NORTH INDIA · MMXXVI

— R A T I O N A L E

A lattice of 36 diamonds in a 6 × 6 grid — the visual grammar of Mughal jali screens that line the Taj Mahal, Humayun's Tomb, and countless Moradabad brass windows. Six diamonds held darker — four in the corners, two in the center — trace a phantom X through the lattice. The mark reads as pure geometry at small sizes, as craft at larger ones. This is a heritage that belongs to you by birthright.

Feels like: Architectural, rooted, crafted
Ownable: Extremely – specific lattice pattern
Works on: Packaging foil-stamp, tile motifs, fabric

The Faceted

X A N V O R

— R A T I O N A L E

Six triangular facets — like a rough-cut gemstone viewed from a shifted angle. Each facet holds a different value of the same tone, creating depth and chiaroscuro without literal shading. The mark reads as one solid form at distance, as faceted geometry up close. A direct cousin of The Folded, but more compact and more jewel-like. Perfect for a brand positioned as "wearable objects" rather than homeware alone.

Feels like: Precious, dimensional, contained
Ownable: Fully — bespoke facet geometry
Works on: Jewelry tags, metal pins, app icons

The Cypher

X A N V O R

C Y P H E R • X V

— R A T I O N A L E

The X and V interlocked as a royal cypher — first and final consonants of the brand name, two angular letters sharing a central junction. The X provides the armature, the V nests within it. A single highlight dot marks the crossing. Reads as a monogrammatic seal, the visual language of British and Scandinavian royal houses (E·R, C·R) but translated into brand grammar. Works beautifully stamped, embroidered, or engraved.

Feels like: Regal, interlocked, authored

Ownable: Total — custom XV construction

Works on: Signet rings, wax seals, hang tags

The Pediment

X A N V O R

BOOKENDS · X · A

— RATIONALE

An XA ligature — the opening syllable of the brand name compressed into a single gesture. The X's right diagonal continues into the A's right leg — four strokes doing the work of six, fused through a shared vertex marked by a single brass bead. The result reads as architectural pediment, the triangular face that sits above a classical columned entrance. A different feel from NV: outward-looking, ceremonial, front-door rather than heart.

Feels like: Architectural, ceremonial, entrance

Ownable: Total – custom ligature

Works on: Storefronts, email sign-offs, embossing

Twelve directions.
Time to commit.
